

Middle School Math Teacher

St. David's School in Raleigh, NC seeks an accomplished and collaborative educator, called to invest in the lives of middle school students, to join the Math Department.

Well-suited candidates will be competent mathematicians, lovers of the quantitative language of the universe and dedicated to guiding their students toward deep conceptual understanding as well as procedural fluency. They will also have a history of nurturing intellectual curiosity across a broad developmental range through a classroom ethos that celebrates robust inquiry, creative thought, disciplined reasoning and a genuine love of continued learning in their students.

St. David's is an independent school in the Episcopal school tradition that prepares young men and women for college and life by challenging them to excel in the vital areas of faith, virtue, and knowledge. Through a commitment to academic excellence, St. David's encourages students to love the process of learning and affect their community for the better, as they pursue truth, goodness, and beauty. Members of the faculty are committed to the life of the mind and enjoy learning, together.

Successful candidate will have a minimum of bachelor's degree in education or relevant subject and 3 years of experience teaching in the middle school level.

The position begins August 2023 for the 2023-2024 school year. Salary and benefits are competitive, classes are small, and the environment is collegial. All candidates are encouraged to visit St. David's School website, www.stdavidraleigh.org, to learn more about the mission and vision of the school and to start the application process.
